

Denis A. ZHURENKOV is a Russian mathematician and economist, Scientific Secretary of the Center of Interdisciplinary Research of Reflexive Processes and Control of Institute of Philosophy Russian Academy of Sciences. In 2012-2016, he was the Chief Researcher of the Central Research Institute of Economy, Informatics and Control Systems of the State corporation for assistance to development, production and export of advanced technology industrial product «Rostec». Since 2006, he and his team have completed about 30 projects for: Ministry of Industry and Trade of Russia, Ministry of Economic Development of Russia, State Corporations, and etc.

Education: Mathematical modeling of economic and physical processes, Moscow State Industrial University (2006); Financial management, Finance University under the Government of the Russian Federation (2011).

Fields of research: Industry Development; Conceptual Foundations of the Post-non-classical Sciences of Control and Development; Interdisciplinary Studies of the Reflexive Processes and Control; Cybernetics of self-developing reflexive-active environments; Subject-oriented Approach to the Organization of Control and Innovative Activities. He can be reached at : dzhurenkoff@gmail.com