

Marialuisa Saviano, PhD, is full professor of business management at the University of Salerno, Italy, where she teaches courses of pharmacy management, business management, service management, and healthcare management. She is Vice Director of the Pharamonomics Interdepartmental Research Centre and a Member of the Board of Directors of the S.I.Mas. She is also: President of the ASVSA, (Association for research on Viable Systems), President of the IASS (Italian Association for Sustainability Science), Faculty Member of PhD Course in Marketing & Communication at the University of Salerno. She has participated in several researches and studies contributing to the development of the Viable Systems Approach (VSA). Her main research interests include the Viable Systems Approach (VSA), Sustainability, Healthcare and Pharmacy Management, Cultural Heritage Management.

She is editor in chief of the Routledge-Giappichelli "Systems Management" Book Series (<https://www.routledge.com/Routledge-Giappichelli-Systems-Management/book-series/RGSYSTEMSMAN>). She has published several books and articles in national and international journals, among which the Land Use Policy, Futures, Sustainability, Sustainability Science, European Management Journal, Managing Service Quality, Journal of Service Management, Journal of Service Theory and Practice, Service Science Informs, Sinergie Italian Journal of Management, World Wide Web Journal. She received several Awards (2011 Naples Forum on Service Conference; 2012 XXIV Sinergie Annual Conference; 2016 19th Toulon-Verona Conference Excellence in Services, 2017 Conference of the EuroMed Academy of Business Global and Domestic Business Theory and Practice: Bridging the Past with the Future; 2017 Highly Commended Paper Award EuroMed Academy of Business - EMAB; 2018 Best Paper Award Conference Evoluzionismo sistemico: il fascino della precarietà University of Rome 'Tor Vergata'). She was also finalist at the 2012/2013 Emerald/EMRBI Business Research Award for Emerging Researchers. She can be contacted at msaviano@unisa.it.